

Critical Thinking

Arguments and Assertions

Worksheet 1

1. Christopher Columbus was the most important person who ever lived.
Argument Assertion
2. My Dad is a great guy because he takes me to ballgames.
Argument Assertion
3. I hate my big brother. He's an idiot.
Argument Assertion
4. There is a God.
Argument Assertion
5. There is a God. How else do you explain everything?
Argument Assertion
6. We went into Vietnam to stop the spread of Communism into Asia.
Argument Assertion
7. Grimm's Fairy Tales are perhaps the most widely read stories ever. They have been translated into 80 languages and have sold over 180 million copies.
Argument Assertion
8. As I started my class, I noticed that there were only three people in the room. The professor wasn't there and the lights were off. I think that class was cancelled.
Argument Assertion
9. What goes around comes around.
Argument Assertion
10. It is essential to follow the rules exactly when working in this company. Company rules are very import.
Argument Assertion
11. The cost of going to college is getting out of hand. Book prices now cost more than tuition, and tuition now costs more than one can earn on minimum wage.
Argument Assertion

Critical Thinking

Arguments and Assertions

Worksheet 1 Answers

1. Christopher Columbus was the most important person who ever lived.

Argument Assertion

2. My Dad is a great guy because he takes me to ballgames.

Argument Assertion

3. I hate my big brother. He's an idiot.

Argument Assertion

4. There is a God.

Argument Assertion

5. There is a God. How else do you explain everything?

Argument Assertion

6. We went into Vietnam to stop the spread of Communism into Asia.

Argument Assertion

7. Grimm's Fairy Tales are perhaps the most widely read stories ever. They have been translated into 80 languages and have sold over 180 million copies.

Argument Assertion

8. As I started my class, I noticed that there were only three people in the room. The professor wasn't there and the lights were off. I think that class was cancelled.

Argument Assertion

9. What goes around comes around.

Argument Assertion

10. It is essential to follow the rules exactly when working in this company. Company rules are very import.

Argument Assertion

11. The cost of going to college is getting out of hand. Book prices now cost more than tuition, and tuition now costs more than one can earn on minimum wage.

Argument Assertion